

Cooking fish thats been in the freezer

Here is a trick to cooking fish that has been in the freezer for a while. After thawing the fish in the sink or refrigerator, drain off any excess water and place the fish in a pan or bowl. Cover the fish with club soda or milk and let stand for a while. Rinse the fish off periodically and the fish will get more mild.