

The harvest has been ON

The boat is in storage for the winter and will be getting its usual maintenance over the winter months. Looking forward to spring launch. It's never too early to book your trip for the big lake. Brown trout are targeted early in the spring, but we still catch lake trout, and some kings and coho as the waters start to warm up. Springtime weather dictates water temperatures and that often dictates the fish's movements and feeding. Check out the April special and get on the water!
