

weekend update

Mix of flies, plugs and Northports put fish into the boat this weekend. Somewhat slow bites in the morning trips, and good action on Saturday evening. Fish were 90 feet or so in the morning at muskegon and 140-170 in the evening. Ludington fish were tight to the beach for some anglers, but we found a few in 60 fow in the early morning and a couple scattered fish later in the morning off the drop off in 120 and and 240.

Â

Sorry for the low detail, but major pc issues are hamperng me. More detail to follow in a week or so when pc is fixed.

Â

Â